Therapeutic:

- The Therapeutic Recreation Division is in full holiday swing.
- We had to cancel our annual Thanksgiving event. This event would have taken place on November 16th. We are also preparing for the 11th Annual Christmas program which includes a full scale play production. The participants are the actors and we will work on costumes, sets, scripts, etc. This is an evening event and is scheduled on Thursday, Dec. 14th. There are typically over 100 friends and family in attendance.
- Sherrie Shinn, TR Coordinator, attended the Therapeutic Recreation Symposium for the Southwest November 6-8. This conference took place at Scottish Rites Children's hospital in Dallas, Texas. Sherrie was a speaker at this conference and will be presenting on the uniqueness of the Little Rock Therapeutic Recreation Division and its programs. The discussion primarily consist of explaining and educating therapeutic recreation professionals about participant led programming and the role this plays in increasing quality of life for participants, as well as sharing the philosophies and approach in programming that has made the Little Rock Parks and Recreation Therapeutic Recreation Division stand out among other programs in central Arkansas and surrounding areas.

MacArthur Museum of Arkansas Military History:

- Museum attendance for November was 3731. This total includes: (1) On-site visitation, (2) Special events, (3) Virtual Programming through the museum's mini-documentaries and interviews, 4) the on-line children's program "The Reading Brigade" and (5) off-site programming. On-site visitation was up 63% over November 2022 on-site attendance. Total attendance for 2023 has already surpassed 40,000 which is a record for the museum.
- Museum staff presented Afterschool programing in November at the Dunbar and Stephens Community Centers on a weekly basis, reaching 189 kids. Since the museum resumed Afterschool programming at the community centers in September, staff has presented programming to 300 students at Dunbar and 356 students at Stephens Community Centers. The museum also presented 21st Century Programming at Chicot Elementary and the J.A. Fair Preparatory Academy on a monthly basis, reaching 70 students. Total outreach to these two schools has been 155 in the past two months. Staff from the Clinton Presidential Center assisted with the off-site programming at the two 21st Century Program sites.
- "Movies at MacArthur" had a strong finish to 2023 with a screening of The Gettysburg Story on November 14 which 63 persons attended. The film program, which began in 2015, had its best year ever with 517 persons attending one or more of the eleven films on historical events and issues confronting veterans today. Films this year examined military conflicts including the Civil War, World War I, World War II, and Iraq/Afghanistan, as well as the role of African Americans and women in our military history.

- The museum participated in “Covettes and Veterans” at War Memorial Stadium on November 11. The event celebrated the 75th anniversary of the stadium and the 70th anniversary of the Corvette automobile. Approximately 150 persons visited the museum’s table which included military uniforms and other memorabilia. Representatives of the Jacksonville Museum of Military History and the Arkansas National Guard Museum joined in the event.
- The museum hosted participants of the “Silkies Hike” of the Irreverent Warriors, Little Rock group on Saturday, November 18. The group’s mission is to bring veterans together using humor and camaraderie to improve mental health and prevent veteran suicide. The Silkies Hike is between 4-10 miles and limited to veterans, active duty, guard, and reservists only. Sixty participants in this year’s hike dropped by for a photo op and toured the museum’s galleries.
- The museum joined 140 museums around the world, including 38 museums in the U.S. to screen The War to End All Wars – The Movie on November 17 for students from Highland High School. The film was developed in partnership with Yarnhub Animation Studios and tells the story of World War I with music from the rock group Sabaton. It was designed to be screened exclusively by museums in the two weeks surrounding November 11, 2023, commemorating the 105th anniversary of Armistice Day. Sabaton, a Swedish heavy metal rock group whose albums focus on historical events, mainly wars and significant battles, has launched “History Rocks,” a worldwide museum project to encourage more people to visit local museums.
- The link below contains a portion of the movie about the Christmas Truce of December 1914.

<https://www.youtube.com/watch?v=QSUclZ6Ma28>

- The museum has received a $5,000 Museum Collections and Resources Grant from the Arkansas Humanities Council. The grant is available for museums with annual budgets of up to $500,000 and can be used for collections management, conservation materials, etc. The funds will be used to purchase three dehumidifiers for the basement as well as archival supplies for the collection. The grant required no match from the applicant. The museum is on track to meet its fundraising goal of $30,000 in outside funding through donations and grants to supplement City funding for museum programming.
- Working with Building Services and Marmic Fire and Safety, the museum was able to update the building’s sprinkler fire protection system to meet new federal guidelines. The building is fully sprinkled with a wet pipe system. Attic and porches are protected by a wet pipe glycol and water system. The cost for the project was approximately $10,000 and was funded through Building Services
- Annika Larson has joined the museum as the new Museum Program Assistant. From Brownsville, Texas, she received her bachelor’s degree in History from Texas A&M in May of 2023, and specialized in post 1901 social and military history in the United States, while also focusing on the social and military history of the Nazis and the Soviets. Prior to her start at the museum, she interned with the Texas A&M History department’s partnership with the Defense POW/MIA Accounting Agency (DPAA) and was an Education Intern with the national Museum of the Pacific War (NMPW). She was also a panelist at the “Never Forgotten: Conflict Archaeology and Military History” at Texas A&M University, and presented 3 sessions at the National Museum of the Pacific War's "Summer Institute for Teachers."

- Upcoming events for December include:
 - "Science After Dark: Museum Tricks and Holiday Flicks" at Museum of Discovery, December 7, 6:00 – 9:00 p.m.

- All aquatic classes are doing well with attendance.

Rebsamen Golf:

- On November 6 and 7 the pumps were fully repaired so that we may return to utilizing well water for our irrigation system.
- On November 8 and 9 we will be hosting our Ladies Golf Association Club Championship. We should have 20-30 ladies competing in the Championship.
- Rebsamen Golf Course has no tournaments or events scheduled for the month of December. We are however in the process of completing some capital improvements by way of flooring and furniture replacement.

First Tee:

Winter is coming,

As we slowly start to wind down the golf season, we are already in the progress of getting ready for 2024. So far this month we have done a lot to maintain a great golf facility open to the public. From re-sodding some of the bare areas of the golf course which includes tee boxes, bare patches in the fairways, and even behind the clubhouse. We completed clearing out a lot of the brush area up by the #1 tee box and #8 tee box.

Along with doing the minor upgrades to the golf course, we are also continuing to advertise on the radio about our birthday party rental package, as well as our afternoon twilight play we offer every day. There have been an increase in play this year which increases the revenue.

We are looking forward to a great start to 2024 and the kick off for spring golf.

Outdoor Recreation-
